I herewith declare my consent that I take part in the study of the Max-Planck-Institute of Evolutionary Anthropology.

Specifically, with your permission we may:

- perform a stimulus - bursting a balloon or hand clap – to induce a stress response that we hope to capture via thermal analysis.

All recorded data

Information pursuant to EU-GDPR concerning the processing of your personal data and the study data (audi and videa data)

Personal data:

This means all the information you provide when you give your consent for your child to take part in studies at the MPI-EVA (Max Planck Institute for Evolutionary Anthropology) (last name, first name, date of birth, e-mail address if applicable, telephone number).

Study data:

This means all audio and/or video recordings made when your child takes part in a study at the MPI-EVA.

Name and contact details of the data controller:

MPI-EVA, Deutscher Platz 6, D-04103 Leipzig

Data recipient:

The recipient of the personal data is the MPI-EVA. The data will be stored there by the IT Department. The study data will be stored and archived by the MPI-EVA.

Contact details of the data protection officer:

Heidi Schuster, Data Protection Officer of the Max Planck Society for the Advancement of Science e.V. If you have any follow-up questions, please contact us on site: Katharina Haberl, MPI-EVA, Deutscher Platz 6, D-04103 Leipzig, Tel.: 0341-3550157; e-mail: forschungsreise@eva.mpg.de

Processing purposes and legal basis:

Basic research such as that conducted by the Max Planck Institute for Evolutionary Anthropology expands the (cultural) knowledge of our society. With its research projects, the Institute consequently performs tasks that are in the public interest. As soon as your child has participated in one or more studies, the study will be assigned to the study participant. All data collected in this study will be recorded, analysed and stored on MPI-EVA servers and used exclusively for the purposes of this study. This is done in pseudonymised form, i.e. a code of numbers and/or letters is used instead of the name. The code can only be assigned to names and contact details via a so-called key list, which is secured in accordance to current standards and is subject to strict access control.

Duration of the storage:

If you revoke your consent to use your personal details, these will be erased without delay. We shall also erase your personal details if you or your child are no longer available for studies. After completion of the study and publication of the study results, all study data will be archived for 10 years in accordance with current valid guidelines.

Rights of the data subject:

You may at any time request information about your data stored with us or demand the rectification, blocking (restriction of processing) and erasure of your stored data and its processing. Insofar as there are scientific reasons for not erasing your data, your data will be blocked. Scientifically relevant reasons are, for example, 10-year retention periods for data in anonymised form following scientific publications.

Right to object:

You have the right to object to the processing. You may object to the processing of your personal data. Please send the objection to: Katharina Haberl, MPI-EVA, Deutscher Platz 6, D-04103 Leipzig, Tel.: 0341-3550157; e-mail: forschungsreise@eva.mpg.de

Right to complain to the supervisory authority:

If you are of the opinion that the processing of your personal data is unlawful, you have the right to complain to a supervisory authority (Art. 77 GDPR).

Provision of the data:

The provision of the personal data is voluntary. You will not be disadvantaged in any way if you do not provide this information.
